My Nature Journal: A Personal Nature Guide for Young People by Adrienne Olmstead

My Nature Journal is an activity book for children (ages 8+) that explains ecological concepts in ways that make them easy to grasp. In it, children write and draw what they see as they are guided through five natural worlds – woodlands, meadows, ponds and streams, seashore, and twilight. Through writing and sketching, children slow down, focus, and use their observation skills to capture their experiences. My Nature Journal helps children enjoy outdoor adventures filled with exploration, discovery, learning, and surprises.

My Nature Journal is selling well at a number of locations, including Yosemite National Park, North Cascades National Park, Point Reyes National Seashore, Kilauea National Wildlife Refuge (Hawaii), and many smaller nature centers throughout the U.S.

This book (ISBN 0-9672459-1-5) is highly recommended as a research tool and as an interpretive sale item.

Retail price: $17.95 hardcover with hidden wire-o binding.
